STATUS: LEGAL ORDER TO STAY HOME NOW EFFECTIVE

WE ARE IN THIS TOGETHER BUSINESS SUPPORT | TOOLKIT

To slow the transmission of the coronavirus (COVID-19), Sacramento County issued new directives for all individuals living in the county to stay home, except for essential activities. The legal order is effective through April 7, 2020. For most people, this means they are required to remain home and only leave for necessary activities like getting food and/or supplies.

As the response to this public health emergency escalates, downtown businesses are feeling direct economic impacts from business closures, event cancellations, and layoffs. We know many of our local businesses are struggling financially. To guide you during this time of uncertainty, Downtown Sacramento Partnership developed this toolkit with helpful resources, tips and digital assets to help you make ends meet while keeping your business, employees, customers and our community safe. TIP: Jump to the most relevant section(s) for you by clicking on the teal headers below.

STOREFRONT SAFETY

While many essential businesses may try to stay open, many will also elect to conserve resources. If you close and/or vacate your business for an extended period of time, follow these important steps for crime prevention.

- Email Downtown Sacramento Partnership to share an email and phone contact that should be utilized in case of emergencies.
- To avoid attracting negative activity at your business, if you choose to post an exterior sign to notify customers you are closed, please add this important language:
This space is monitored by the Sacramento Police Department.
- Tape an interior-facing phone contact list at all entry and exits into your business to provide quick contacts for first responders. This should not be visible from the exterior.
- Notify your alarm company of the extended absence and ensure they have accurate contact information for your business. If you receive an alarm call, do not cancel it.

COVID-19 RESOURCES

The COVID-19 pandemic is already hurting small businesses and non-profit organizations whose revenues have fallen off. Understanding what businesses, employers and employees may be eligible for to make ends meet can be confusing.

PROTECTING CUSTOMERS

The California Dept. of Public Health (CDPH) has issued guidance for restaurants, bars, wineries, food trucks, grocery stores, and farmers' markets to protect against the spread of COVID-19 in the community.

Best Practices:

- Employees should continue best hygiene practices, including washing their hands often with soap and water for at least 20 seconds.
- Increase frequency of cleaning and sanitizing per CDC Environmental Cleaning and Disinfection guidance of all hard surfaces, including tables and counter tops that are being utilized by employees and patrons during pickup/delivery options.
- For additional information on protecting workers from COVID-19, refer to Cal/OSHA.

Workplaces:

- Workplaces and businesses should implement telecommuting and teleconferencing for their employees, where appropriate and feasible.
- Only those employees performing essential duties that cannot be performed by telecommuting should physically come to work.

Retailers (non-restaurant):

- Retailers that provide essential duties include, but are not limited to, those that provide food and other necessities of life for economically disadvantaged or otherwise needy individuals, banks and related financial institutions, gas stations and auto-related facilities, and more.
- Retailers should consider drive-through or other pick-up/delivery options.

Restaurants/Cafeterias:

- Restaurants should be closed for in-restaurant seated dining and should be open only to drive-through or other pick-up/delivery options.
- Find helpful tips from partners at OpenTable in this blog.

Retail Beverage Service Venues:

- Bars, wineries, breweries and pubs should be closed, except for venues that are currently authorized to sell beer and wine to be consumed off premises. This guidance is not intended to affect production of beer and wine.
- Bars, breweries, pubs, and wineries that include meals provided by a full kitchen should provide delivery or pick-up options only and follow the best practices listed above.

Visit CDPH online for additional guidance. Call 2-1-1 or visit Sacramento County's Department of Health Services for general information or questions in Sacramento and www.covid19.ca.gov for general information about COVID-19.

Pick Up Fixe:

GETTING CREATIVE

Whether your business will remain open during these uncertain times or you have suspended operations until further notice, you must adapt to your customers' fears and needs for social distancing to stay relevant. Implement creative strategies while remembering to take all health and safety precautions for yourself, your employees, and others in the community.

Do Good: Unused Perishable and Nonperishable Goods

- Consider your options to adapt your business model. Could you offer limited groceries for pick-up/delivery in place of prepared meals for your neighbors? Can you transition to online or delivery-only enterprises?
- If you have food that needs to be distributed because you cannot utilize it, or need assistance in locating organizations that welcome the food, contact Mikel Davila with the City of Sacramento.

Open for Business: If you're safely open, tell people!

- Meeting customers where they are, which is likely online and on social media, is critical to promoting your merchandise or services.
- Post your hours on social media and update your Google My Business and Yelp profile.
- Notify your e-newsletter distribution list to let your customers know your hours and how to safely order take out, pick-up and/or delivery.
- You can also utilize your POS system, Square, Clover and others to notify customers through their marketing apps. This a great time to share a discount code or gift certificate link to incentivize sales.

Safety First: Give your customers confidence and peace of mind

- Regularly sanitize hard surfaces in your store such as counters and doorknobs throughout the day and share photos of your staff doing so on social media.
- Let your followers know you are offering take out orders, curbside pick-up, delivery and/or online orders.
- Don't just think about instant delivery, consider shipping too! (if applicable)

Right Size: Convenient options to maintain social distancing

- Offer box lunches to-go and catering-sized portions of favorite dishes or ready-serve dinners.
- Package ingredients to put together and cook/bake at home like a cake decorating kit or pizza with toppings on the side to assemble at home. Take it one step further:
  - ⇒ Assemble as DIY project kits that offer a simple way to keep idle hands at home busy with minimal social interaction.
  - ⇒ Post video tutorials on cake decorating or pizza making class to complement the take-away item(s).
- Build subscription boxes with varying contents each week/month to encourage repeat business.

Digital Marketing: Reach your customers where they are

- Put your best digital foot forward. Update photos, online shopping tools and copy on your website.
- Post high-quality photos of your merchandise or new specials throughout the day on social media and offer online ordering via phone or social media.
- Take shoppers on a video virtual tour of your store to spark interest in your products. Don't forget to share how to order online!
- Try hosting a webinar or organize live sessions on social channels such as Facebook or Instagram. (see social media tips for best practices)

STAY UP TO DATE

Since 1995, Downtown Sacramento Partnership has served as the voice of downtown, led the revitalization for the urban core, and has been a driving force in moving Sacramento forward. We are a Property Based Improvement District (PBID) established by property owners to initiate economic development and marketing initiatives as well as an enhanced level of service for downtown Sacramento, including the Old Sacramento Waterfront.

The health and safety of our community is our number one priority. Our Public Space Services team continues to maintain regular operating hours and deployment to keep downtown “clean and safe.” We have taken several additional precautions, including increased frequency of cleaning and sanitizing with a focus on high-touch and high-traffic areas.

As the spread of COVID-19 continues to impact our region, are working closely with our state and local partners to encourage customers to safely support and patronize the businesses in our district responsibly and in accordance with published guidelines.
